We forget about the sins of the heart! We all struggle with sinful thoughts, desires, and habits. We always think about the outward sins or what we call the big sins, but how about the sins of the heart. The sins that no one, but God and you know about. I believe I sin even if I might not be living like the world, but how about my inward sins.

These are our sins and other people's sins against us. We need God's forgiveness for our ingratitude and ungratefulness in sinning, especially when we are in the act of asking him for good things, and of course we have to be willing to forgive others if we ourselves want to be forgiven. Humility is the hardest petition of the Lord's Prayer, the one we struggle with the most. It is so important that it is ...

BBC - Religions - Christianity: Original sin

Many people want to be in God's good graces--but they want to do it their way and do whatever sins they feel like doing. This will only ensure their eternal damnation. We cannot please God on his terms. We have sinned and he sent his only begotten Son, the Lord Jesus Christ, to die for our sins so that we can be forgiven. If we do not repent of our sins and believe in the Lord Jesus Christ, we will

Jesus Christ - Catholic Online

We are told many times to confess our sins to the Lord, but the only direct command to confess to someone else is in the context of church elders praying on behalf of the sinner (James 5:16). This does not mean that we are never to seek another person's forgiveness. The Bible gives examples of confession to other people. One is Joseph's brothers asking for his forgiveness in Genesis 50:17-18 ...

Common Examples Of Mortal Sins | Lay Cistercians

The eternal punishment for sin is no longer upon those who accept Christ as Lord and God no longer punishes us for our sin because Jesus took that punishment. But sometimes the Bible says, bad things that happen to us are a result of God's discipline. They are not retribution or punishment for sin; rather, they are a correction, as a parent would correct a child.
